

Luiss Business School – Entrepreneurship in Amsterdam

When: 04-07-2024

Who: Group of Master students from Luiss Business School in Rome with their professor

What: The group visited REC Impact to learn more about the startup ecosystem in Amsterdam and hear what we do to support social impact at the University of Amsterdam.

About: The Luiss Business School is a school of management in Rome with a Tripple Crown Accreditation. They offer Master's programs, MBAs, and Executive programs. A group of Master's students visited us at REC Impact, they are all entrepreneurs with their own startups they developed over the course of the Master's program. They were visiting the Amsterdam Hub of the Luiss Business School to learn about entrepreneurship and the startup ecosystem in Amsterdam.

Reference:

“Femmie and Kirsten provided us with interesting information about the history of entrepreneurship in Amsterdam and how this is still visible today on the University Campus. It was a valuable visit for the students.” Josè D’Alessandro – Professor of Practice Luiss Business School

